The Horace Mannikin

1924

Published by the Senior Class

Horace Mann School for Boys

Fieldston, New York

Foreword

The year 1923-1924 at Horace Mann has been unusually plentiful in the matter of school activities. If, when reading this volume, pleasant memories of the past year are brought to mind, the book will have achieved its purpose and attained the goal for which the Board has striven in presenting this Mannikin to the School.

We, the members of the Senior Class of 1924, in sincerest appreciation of his goodwill and untiring efforts in striving for higher and better ideals in school life

dedicate this Mannikin to

George Howard Bruce

a gentleman, a scholar and a true friend.

HORACE MANN SENIOR PROMENADE

Crystal Room, Ritz Carlton Hotel

April 4, 1924.

Social Review

Four events of the social season of 1922-23 occured after the 1923 Mannikin had gone to press. The first of these was the excellent presentation of Shakespeare's "Tempest" given by the Horace Mann Dramatic Club at the Plaza, followed by a dance that was no less successful. The Ace Club put on an enjoyable tea dance in the library after the Kingsley baseball contests on Saturday, May twelfth. On May twenty-sixth, the Boule Club gave a tea dance at the conclusion of the baseball game with Irving School. The social year closed with the annual Commencement Dance on June fifth. The affair was engineered by Miss McIntosh and the committee of Juniors. Mooney Le Maire's orchestra furnished the music for a very delightful evening.

The 1923-24 season was ushered in by a tea dance in the library following the Hackley football clash. The dancing started at four o'clock and ended at six-thirty. Le Maire's "Ragadors" supplied the tunes.

In the evening of November twenty-eight, the Dramatic Club brought forward three short plays in the newly-equipped study hall. They were "The Cripples", "Where the Cross is Made" and "The Crowsnest." The library was the gay scene of the dance after the performances. John Green's "Harmonians" syncopated for the evening.

The yearly Alumni Dance took place in the gymnasium on December twenty-seventh, preceded by the basketball game. The party was enjoyed by a large number of alumni and upper-classmen. Refreshments were served and Mooney Le Maire provided the jazz.

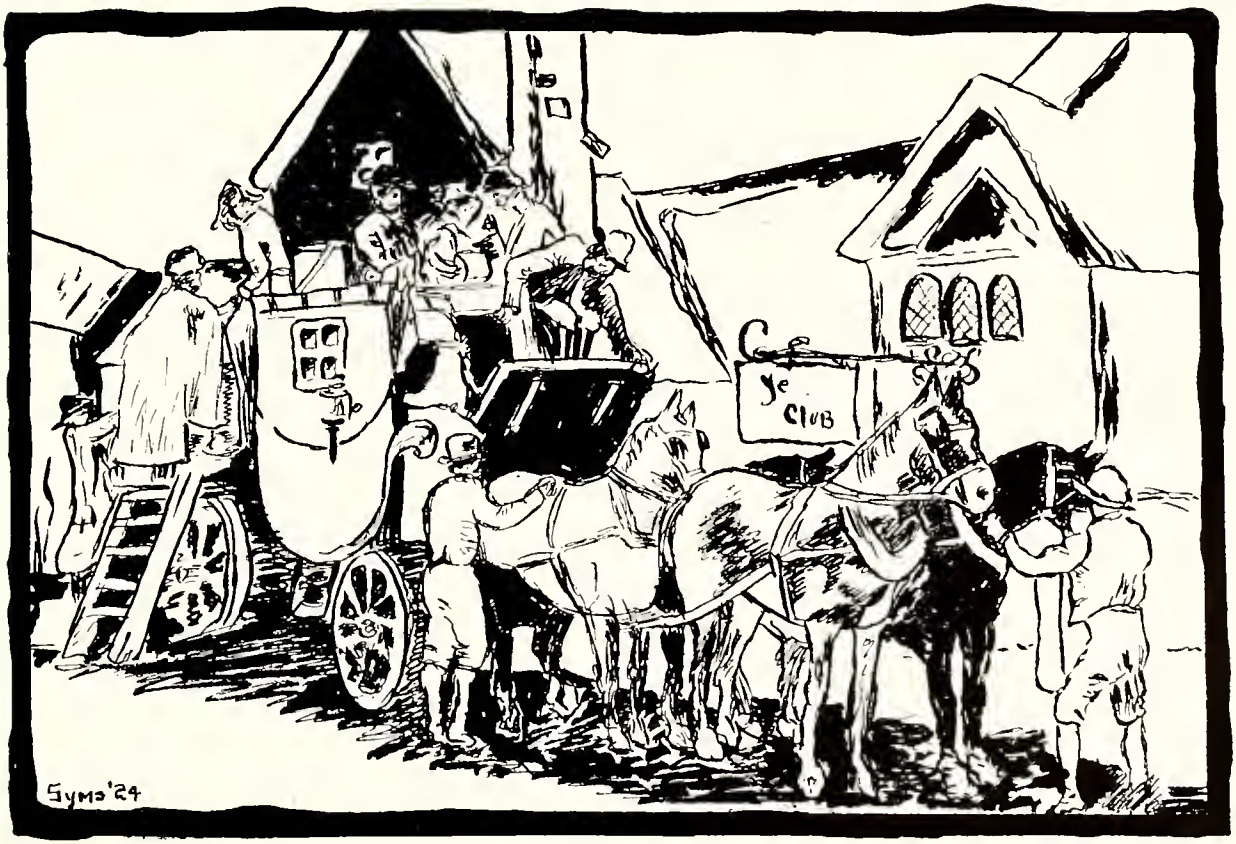

For the first time the Dramatic Club gave a mid-winter performance of plays on the twenty-first of February. "Where But In America?", "A Night at an Inn" and "Pyramus and Thisbe" constituted the evening's program. Contrary to usual custom, the dance was held in the gymnasium, under the direction of the Club. The "Harmonians" played to the satisfaction of all present.

The Basketball Team staged a tea dance in the library on March the eighth. Forty couples attended, and the "Harmonians" rendered excellent melody. Refreshments were served.

The summit of the season was attained in the Crystal Room of the Ritz-Carlton Hotel on Friday evening, April fourth, when the Senior Class held its annual Promenade from nine to two o'clock. All previous Proms were outstripped by this event, and the huge success of the affair may be in some measure attributed to the presence of Zev Confrey and his orchestra. Other features were delicious refreshments and multi-colored spotlights. Too much commendation cannot be lavished upon the Senior Dance Committee for their efficient management of the dance.

The Dramatic Club presented "The Knight of the Burning Pestle" by Beaumont and Fletcher, at the Hotel Plaza on the twenty-fifth of April. It was followed by a dance.

Achean Club

The Achean Club was founded in March of 1921 when the present members were in the Third form. Its members have always been chosen from the class of 1924. Its first advisor was Mr. Saunders and under his guidance the Club was carefully organized, and soon it was recognized by the Club Council. The following year the Club launched out on an enterprise to revive an interest in Athenian-Corinthian activities. After some deliberation, the Club decided to offer a banner to whichever side won the championship in two out of three years. The Athenians triumphed in both 1921-22 and 1922-23, thereby gaining permanent possession of the Achean Club banner. Mr. Evans was the Club advisor for the first part of 1921-22 and, at his departure from the school, he was succeeded by Mr. Spence, who has been with the Club ever since. In both the Third and Fourth Forms, the Achean Club came out second in the Ace Club Scholastic Contest. This year in order to continue its service to the school, the Club is offering a two volume edition of "the Life and Letters of Walter H. Page" to the Senior who delivers the best speech in assembly. Thus, in the few years of its existence, the Achean Club has done service to the school both in athletics and non-athletics; and its members may look back with pride on its enviable record of service to the Horace Mann School.

Dorian Club

The Dorian Club was founded in 1918 by five members of the First Form, and its membership has always been restricted to the class of 1924. Its first advisors were Mr. Brown and Mr. Rogers, and when the latter left Horace Mann, Mr. McCormick filled the vacancy. He was in turn succeeded by Mr. Spence, and during the Senior year Mr. Wiley also served as associate advisor. The Dorian Club has a good record of service at Horace Mann. For three years it has persented a watch fob to the member of the baseball team with the highest batting average. In 1921 it presented the Library with a new Atlas, and has also served the Library by contributing a sum of money with which to buy books. An open message sent by the Club to the School in 1922 was largely responsible for the reorganization of the Pep Committee. In the same year the Club compiled the constitutions of all the School clubs and placed the books in the Library. This year, as a gift of the Dorian Club, the School received a portrait of the late President Harding. The Club has also been very active in the matter of Senior privileges, proposing four through the Record. The Dorians have always been athletically active, finishing second last year in the Inter-Club Basketball Tourney. The Dorian Club, therefore, has promoted a healthy spirit of good fellowship among its members who may look forward to many joyous reunions.

Ionian Club

The Ionian Club was started in 1918 by four boys with Mr. Smith as the initial advisor. The following year Mr. Smith departed and Mr. Cook undertook the advisorship for one year. In 1920, Mr. Crosby consented to fill the vacancy left by Mr. Cook. To Mr. Crosby, Ionian advisor for three years, the Club owes most of its success. Mr. Moore is this year's faculty member. While in existence, the Ionians have done much to further the cause of good fellowship in the School. They have also competed continually in the Inter-Club athletic activities. For the past three years the Cub has taken charge of the Inter-Club Basketball Tournament, and presented a cup to the winners. The Club has a very fine internal spirit and February 22nd has become known to the members as Ionian Day, on which day they convene and enjoy themselves. On disbanding this year, the members of the Ionian Club may have good cause to look back with pleasure to the happy times they have spent together, and the good they have done for Horace Mann.

Dramatic Club Review

The presentation of "The Tempest", by William Shakespeare, at the Plaza on April 27th, took place after the 1923 Mannikin had gone to press. The affair was a great success socially, financially, and dramatically. The school supported it well, and many outsiders were there. The long part of Prospero was well handled by Schnitzer. Norvin Lindheim took the part of Ferdinand, the youthful lover of Miranda, as played by Robert Wallstein. The comedy parts were held down by Peck, Syms, and Davies, playing Caliban, Trinculo, and Stefano, respectively. Pforzheimer rendered the spirit Ariel, a slave of Prospero, most delightfully. The other major parts were taken by Morgan, Jackson, Goldstone, playing the villain, and Bonsal, the villain's crony. The scenery and stage managing were taken care of by Bernstein and Sharpe. Mr. Smith, and Mr Blake, no longer with us, deserve the credit for the excellent coaching of this difficult piece.

The first event of the 1923-1924 season was a short play entitled "Moonshine", a play about the backwoods, illicit liquor, and a revenue officer. It was presented on Nov. 2nd, in assembly. The two parts were taken by Morgan, as the backwoodsman, and Wilson Reed, as Jim Gunn. It was highly exciting, and was well presented. It was the first product of the new system tried out by the Dramatic Club, of letting the members present a play by themselves.

Following this idea, Lindheim gave an excellent dramatic reading of "The Glittering Gate", by Lord Dunsany, on Nov. 13th, in assembly. Lindheim's task was doubly difficult because he had to portray two different characters at the same time. It was very well received by the school.

The usual fall show was staged on Nov. 28th, in the newly equipped study hall stage. It consisted of three one-act plays: "The Cripples", by David Pinski, "The Crowsnest", from the pen of William Manley, and "Where the Cross is Made", by Eugene O'Neill. The first, presented under the direction of Charles Bernstein, was a comedy, featuring Barnett, Barnouw, Kane, Eastman, and Swope. It is the story of the struggle for the best place for alms in front of a church. The second play was well coached by Carl Pforzheimer, who also took a part of a romantic youngster of East New York, whose dream about a sea fight formed the basis of the play. The other parts were taken by Morgan, as an experienced mariner, and Boyd, who gave a vivid portrayal of a Swedish mate. The play took place in the crowsnest of a fruiter. The last play, the feature of the evening, was staged by Shirley Peck. He also took the part of Nat, the son of a mariner, in whose family insanity was a trait. The old mariner, played by Norvin Lindheim, built a cabin atop his seaside house, and was hourly expecting an imaginary treasure ship to come home. He so preys upon Nat's mind that he soon believes in the myth. His sister, played by Wallstein, figures as the steadying, practical element in the play, but she soon is unable to do anything with the demented men. A doctor, who conspires with the brother to remove the old man to an asylum, was played by Wilson Reed. The scenery was ingeniously carried out by Sharpe and Syms, aided by the new lighting equipment just purchased by the club.

The Christmas pageant was a beautiful pantomine representing the birth of Christ, and the coming of the three wise men. Peck's imposing figure represented Joseph, while Wallstein played the Virgin. Numerous extras gave the play an atmosphere, enhanced by an organ accompaniment.

Partly to pay for this equipment, and partly to satisfy the added interest in the Club, it was decided to give a winter show. The plays selected were "A Night at an Inn", by Lord Dunsany, "Pyramus and Thisbe", adopted from Shakepeare's "Midsummer Night's Dream" by Mr. Smith, and "Where but in America", by Oscar Wolffe. For the first time the dance was held in the gym, with great success. The first play featured Woodward as the arch-crook, while Boyd, Eastman, and Pforzheimer, as the arch-crook's underlings, furnished ample comedy and excitement by their reactions to the fear of the Hindu priests who were pursuing them. A remarkable idol, which walked in, gave an additional thrill. The second play concerned the Shakespearian manner of presenting a Greek legend. Norvin Lindheim played the master mason, and was the hero of the legend. The coach and director, a favorite in the court, was played by Harold Strauss, and Lincoln Barnett interpreted Thisbe. Miner, as the moon, furnished a good comedy scene. The play was directed by Norvin Lindheim. The last play was a clever social satire, featuring John Green as the husband, and Robert Wallstein as the wife. Oscar Rose portrayed the Swedish maid very humorously.

As the final performance of the year, the Club is presenting "The Knight of the Burning Pestle", by Beaumont and Fletcher. It is to be presented in the true Elizabethian style, using an outer and an inner stage. Peck and Syms will play the visiting citizen and his wife. The citizen's apprentice, Ralph, also the Knight of the Burning Pestle, is presented by Pforzheimer. Jasper an adventurous young blade, will be interpreted by Lindheim, with Wallstein in the role of Luce, his lover and the heroine. His rival, the foppish youth Humphrey, who is Luce's father's favorite, will be taken by John Green. Morgan will have the rich merchant Venturewell, Luce's father. The singing and drunken sire of Jasper will be rendered by Wilson Reed, and his shrewish wife, by Barnett. The date set for this difficult piece is April 25th. Past achievements lead us to expect that the performance will be of the best.

The coaching and supervising were excellently done by Mr. Smith thruout the season, aided by Mr. Clausen in the last production. In this connection we have heard that Mr. Blake will be with us again, and will lend us his valuable assistance. Most of the scenery has been designed by Bernstein, while Syms was the costume director. Stewart Sharpe and Luykx were the electrical wizards of the club, and the box office end was taken care of by Charles Schock, Erik Barnouw and Joseph Gitterman.

The constant aim of the Dramatic Club has been to present a play at some downtown theatre. Towards this end it has been making steady progress, and with the new lighting and scenery equipment, this has grown appreciably nearer

Football Review

The 1923 'Varsity Football Team will long be remembered at Horace Mann as the team which broke the Hackley jinx by battling its traditional rivals from Tarrytown to a scoreless tie. This was the first time in sixteen years that Horace Mann was not forced to accept defeat at the hands of Hackley, and it is a record of which the team and school can well be proud.

At the beginning of the season the outlook was not very bright. Only three regulars, Captain Westwood, Schock, and Upjohn remained from the 1922 team, but Coach Tewhill was fortunate in having a wealth of new material. After three weeks of hard practice, "Ump" took his team to the Brunswick School and won by the score of 41-0. Two huge buses packed with enthusiastic supporters accompanied the team to the Connecticut school.

The following Friday the 'Varsity met Dwight on Alumni Field, which was literally a sea of mud as the result of a continual downpour. Dwight won, 14-0, due largely to their heavier line.

On October 26, the 'Varsity showed a return to form and earned its second victory by defeating the Manhattan College Freshmen by a 28-10 score.

All Hallows, one of the best football teams in the city, played us on our field on November 3. For three periods the two teams battled on an even footing, but in the last period, after missing a touchdown by inches, our defense crumbled and All Hallows registered three touchdowns. The final score was 24-0.

The most exciting and also the most important game was with Hackley the following Saturday on Alumni Field. For four periods the teams struggled vainly to score. H. M. won on the defensive a large part of the time and twice held for downs when Hackley was within scoring distance.

Captain Westwood, at fullback, was the outstanding star of the team. In addition to being a good player he was an excellent captain, continually encouraging his players. Sam Wilson, a halfback, was the fastest man on the team and reeled off several long runs. He was also a splendid defensive back. Woodward, the other halfback, was especially proficient in line plunges. At quarterback there was little to chose between Reed and Riggio. Otis and Kertscher alternated at center. Two veterans, Schock and Upjohn, held down the wing position and proved themselves hard tacklers. Hussa and Oelkers were the tackles. Hussa was in the midst of every scrimmage. Robertson, the heaviest man on the team, was the best of the guards. Bolter, the other guard, played a fine game, and Hirsch did well in this position when called upon. At the end of the season the letter men elected him captain for 1924, but later he resigned and Kertscher was unanimously elected.

The team was efficiently managed by Sweeny. He will be succeeded next year by Barden.

Basketball Review

The 'Varsity Basketball Team of 1924 completed their regular schedule with the excellent record of fourteen victories and only two defeats. Although this achievement is not quite up to the mark set by the teams of the past two years, it is one of which any team can be proud and ranks this team with the best of the past. Following the regular season the team set a precedent by going on a barnstorming trip through Connecticut. In spite of the fact that the team suffered three defeats to one victory, they gave a good account of themselves and set an example for future teams to follow.

A large squad turned out for the sport last fall when Mr. Tewhill sent out his call for candidates. After about two weeks of practice Fanwood faced H. M. in the first game of the year. The game was hard fought, but at the end the Fieldston team was ahead 38-28. Hamilton then succumbed by a 25-14 count. The third consecutive victory was added at the expense of Trinity.

During the Christmas vacation the Alumni were defeated in the annual game by a score of 28-18. Following this vacation the Faculty and the Manhattan College Freshmen were the fifth and sixth consecutive victims.

The next week the team slumped. On January 23, Loyola won the first game from H. M. on her own court since 1921. This game was close and furiously fought for three quarters but in the final period Loyola broke loose and won 28-21. The following Saturday the second game of the week was lost to Curtis by a score of 14-11.

However the Maroon and White soon recovered its lost stride and won from North Plainfield, St. John's College Freshmen and Kingsley in quick succession. Dwight and Hackley proved to be easy and two more wins were registered over them in the following week.

In the final home contest a victory was scored over Poly Prep, in the annual games between these teams. In this contest H. M. gained the unique distinction of holding their foes scoreless during the first half. The final score was 27-12.

During the Spring vacation the team journeyed up thru the Connecticut Valley where they engaged in four games. In the first contest they lost to the strong Springfield Tech five by a score of 37-24. The next night Rosary High won in the closing seconds of a thrilling game by a 21-19 count. The third game was dropped to Suffield by a score of 23-15. The last night of their stay was marked by the only win of the trip which was scored at the expense of Chicopee High. The score of this game was 16-15.

The left forward position was ably held down by Wilson Reed, who was playing his second year on the 'Varsity. He was a sure passer and one of the most consistent scorers on the team. Miller was the regular center for almost the entire season. He had a tendency to travel but improved enormously as the year progressed, and is counted on heavily for next year. Austin was one of the first string guards. He started the year on the side-line but won himself a position on the first five, and for the rest of the year justified his promotion by his fine game. Sperry alternated between center and guard, each of which positions he played well. He was a steady scorer and a valuable man.

The team next year will be headed by Captain-elect Robinson, who played the other forward. He was easily the high scorer of the team and in every way deserves the honor payed him by his teammates. He will be a fine player around whom next year's team may be fashioned.

Captain Eising was the leader of this year's five. He played his guard position in a fine manner and was an excellent shot from the middle of the floor. In addition he handled his responsibilities as Captain well, giving his men the necessary advice and encouragement. He will be much missed next year.

Of the other members of the squad Weser and Heydt were forwards while Loeb and Kops were guards. Each of these did well when given a chance to do their stuff.

Carl Pforzheimer, Jr. managed the team. In addition to supplying a fine schedule he took care of the managing end of the work with more than usual ability. He took care of the difficult task of guiding the team on their trip in a very credidable way. He will be succeeded by Earl Taylor.

No review would be complete without due recognition of the excellent work of Coach Tewhill. He has completed another fine year at H. M and his work only justifies the confidence placed in him. Without his teaching and sound advice the team could never have given the good account of itself which it did.

Baseball Review

The Varsity baseball team's 1923 season was characterized by individual starring, mediocre team play, and hard luck. However, due to the efforts of the team itself, and the coaching and perseverance of "Ump" Tewhill and Roger Readio, the tally at the end of the season showed seven victories and four set-backs. At the beginning of the season veteran material was scarce, and the prospects were not bright, but the first game, a 17 to 4 victory at Trinity's expense, cleared up all doubts.

The feature of this game was the home run by Capt. Brugiere, with a man on base. Pruna started in the box, but was taken out in favor of Bostwick, who pitched exceedingly well.

Encouraged by this, the team evened up the football score by winning from Hackley, 9 to 5, in a rather dull game, marred by mud and rain. Woodward, altho hampered by a wet ball, pitched excellently.

The next week a hard fight was staged with Mt. Pleasant, in which they came out on top on an 8 to 6 score. Every inning was closely contested, and another time we might have won. As in the first game, Pruna started, only to be soon relieved by Bostwick.

In a loose, poorly played game, H. M. took Clason Point into camp, 6 to 5. Woodward pitched again, and Morgan saved the day by a peg in the eighth.

Kingsley, next on the schedule, was made to dance to the tune of a 12 to 3 beating. In this game many of the substitutes were given a chance, among them Dickinson, a freshman pitcher, who made a good showing.

The next three games ended disastrously for H. M. All Hallows finished on the best end of a 5 to 3 score. The playing was not up to the usual standard. McBurney won the next, which was better played, 8 to 6.

Poly Prep, on their field, edged their way to a 5 to 4 victory over the H. M. batsmen, in the hardest fought game of the year. Bliss Woodward pitched good ball, but the backing was unsteady. Douglas, of Poly Prep, and Gies of H. M. each drew a homer and another hit, and Pruna made some excellent catches in the outfield. On the whole, it was a hard game to lose.

The team followed this up by beating Marquand easily. Bostwick, on the mound for H. M. held the visitors to one run, while our batsmen drove in ten.

The Irving game, one of the most thrilling of the year, was won by a scant margin, the final tally registering 11-9. Woodward again pitched his good game, and the backing was much better.

Concerning the individuals of the team, we must first mention Capt. Brugiere, who held down the left field position, and led the team with spirit. The pitchers were Woodward and Bostwick, both of whom were dependable. Sid Crane, supporting them at the plate, let few balls pass him. Gene Buris was the regular first sacker, and was a constant hitter. Weser created a sensation by his excellent playing at second. Riggio did his job at short, while Gies covered third. The outfielders besides Brugiere were Pruna, Herrlich, and Fulkerson.

Fulkerson also handled the managing end, and arranged an excellent, tho hard, schedule. William Putney will succeed him this year, and it is reported that he has repeated Fulkerson's achievement.

PROSPECTS FOR 1924

The future of the 1924 baseball team looks very bright. The infield will probably be one of the strongest in the history of the school. Weser and Riggio are veterans at short and second, while Boehnel, a new comer, ranks with them in ability. First will probably fall to Sperry, altho there are several excellent men trying for it. Understudies in the field are Heydt, Smith, Hirsch, and Wilson. Several of those are sure to find a berth in the outfield along with Hirshon, Hicks, and Gilbert. Woodward and Kane are the veteran pitchers, and they will be helped by Sperry and perhaps Tonn. Ellinger, Gilbert, and Gitterman are possibilities for the receiving end. With the team in "Ump" Tewhill's hands, there can be no doubt that it will go thru a most successful season.

Track Review, 1923

Due to the loss of every letter man of the 1922 team, the outlook in track for 1923 did not appear to be particularly auspicious at the start of the season. Despite this tremendous handicap, Coach Winter set diligently to work to whip into shape the material at hand. As a reward for his splendid work, H. M. enjoyed the best season that has been had in many years. The team lost but one of seven dual meets and captured second place in the A. A. P. S. meet. This is indeed a fine record and one which may be looked back on with pride.

In the opening meet Townsend Harris was downed by the close score of 49½—45½. Following three successive wins over McBurney, Dwight and Newtown, the Red and White suffered their only dual meet defeat of the season. Bryant was the victor when they scored a one point victory over H. M. in a close and thrilling contest. Pelham was next beaten by the large count of 56—20, and, in the final meet of the year, H. M. scored its first track victory over Hackley when they triumphed 40—30. To close a splendid season H. M. captured second place out of fourteen schools in the A. A. P. S. meet held at Alumni Field. As was expected Poly Prep easily took first place, and was followed by the Horace Mann team which scored the highest position it has ever held in this meet.

As a reward for their excellent work, H. M.'s were awarded to thirteen members of the squad. At the head of this group was Captain Gaines, who proved to be a fine leader. He amassed a total of 61 points, in the 220, 440 and relay, which total was the second highest made by anyone. To Gerard Swope, Captain for 1924, goes the honor of being high scorer. He had 62¼ points, which he gained in the 100, 880 and relay. Cole was a steady winner in the mile and piled up 32 points in this event. Barton was his chief rival scoring 15 points and winning his letters in the A. A. P. S. meet. Baer was awarded his H. M. for his work in the 100, 220 and hurdles, while Siesel earned his in the weight events. Bruguiere and Oviatt took care of the broad jump, and the latter also proved to be a consistent point scorer in the high jump. Adams, Miller and Robinson were included among the letter winners by reason of their winning on a relay team which scored in an open meet. Of these men, six will be available for 1924 which should furnish a nucleus for another splendid team.

Cross Country Review

The Varsity Cross-Country team finished its 1923 season very creditably. It competed in six dual meets, winning four and losing two, but it wiped out these defeats by placing ahead of both of these teams in the Private School Championship race. The team also made two trips, one to Yale, and the other to Troy.

In the four dual meets which the team won, against Newtown High, Montclair High, Clason Pt., and St. Johns, they showed great superiority. Altogether, in these four races, they made only eight points more than a perfect score, four of which were against Clason Pt., while they did score one to five consecutively against St. Johns.

In the two dual meets which the team dropped, De La Salle had only one point less, 27-28 while Poly Prep is recognized as an excellent team with an excellent tradition behind it. It may be said here that Cross-Country is a comparatively new sport at H. M. there having been only three teams before 1923.

The trip to Troy to compete in the Rensaeler Poly Inst. Interscholastic Meet resulted the team's taking 5th place in 14 schools. The other schools were among the best in the State, and the record is very creditable. In the Yale Interscholastic Meet, against a superior field, H. M. pulled in 8th place among 12 schools.

At the peak of the season the grand coup was staged. Our team came in first in the Private School Championship by three points, against both De La Salle and Poly Prep., and two other schools, Clason Point and St. Johns. H. M. scored 39 points, while Poly and Clason Point tied for second at 42.

To begin with the individuals, we must mention Capt. Cole, a three year veteran, and a steady worker. He ran in 9 meets with a total of 26.5 points, and an average of 2.94. He ran consistently all the time, and kept among the first three runners. Durrell, also a three year veteran, altho he did not run as steadily as Cole, kept his average down to 2.50 in all meets.

Ken Robinson, altho he was a newcomer to Cross-Country, was the star of the team. His point total in the dual meets was 8, and his average on the team was 1. Robinson ranks with the best runners in the State. He has been elected next year's captain.

Curtman ran in eight meets, with an average of 3.47. Inasmuch as this is his first year, he deserves a lot of credit for his good showing and steady running. His low average shows how stiff the competition was between the first four men. Walker earned fifth place with an average of 5.11. Murphy ran in six meets, and showed steady improvement all during the season.

Miller Dickinson, and Munizaga were the other regulars and by their good work they kept the team on the top notch. The first six men received regular H. M.'s for winning the Championship. The team was ably managed by Wilson Reed, who arranged an excellent schedule. He will be succeeded by John Swope. All except Cole and Durrell are expected to return next year.

No Cross-Country review would be complete without the mention of Coach Winter. He came to H. M. when Cross-Country was beginning its second season very weakly. He built up the team to its present high status by earnest work, and he succeeded in stimulating school spirit to take an interest in Cross-Country, thereby bringing the best material out. We hope his good work will continue in the future.

Soccer Review

The Varsity Soccer Team of 1923 completed a schedule of five games with the creditable record of two victories, two ties and a single setback. Although in some games the team did not appear to be playing at its best, they at all times gave a good account of themselves.

When the first call for candidates was sent out by Coach Schmitt, about thirty players responded. Among these were several veterans of former teams and the outlook was fairly bright. Captain Barton and Eising had earned their letters for two years and around them the team was built. Added to them were several players with some previous Varsity experience, and, taken as a whole, the team began to look like an excellent one.

The first game of the year took place with Curtis High School at Staten Island. This game resulted in a 1-1 tie. Capt. Barton accounted for H. M.'s lone tally. The following week the team went down to defeat for the first and last time of the season, when Poly Prep triumphed 2-1. The work in this game was very disappointing, and it seemed as if H. M. should have gained at least a tie. Eastman's goal saved the Maroon and White from a shutout. Then followed two victories, both over N. Y. M. A. our traditional soccer rival. The scores of these games were 2-0 and 2-1. The last game of the season was against Manual Training High School. This contest was staged in a sea of mud, and neither team had much opportunity to perform any good work. At the final whistle the score was 0-0.

As a whole, the team consisted of a weak forward line and a strong backfield. The stars of the forward line were Captain Barton and Eastman. Barton was playing his third year on the Varsity and quite lived up to his form of the past two years. Eastman, who played inside left, was the leader of the offense. He played the best game of the forwards, and accounted for the majority of the goals scored. Putney and Haas were the other regular forwards. Each of these played a fair game, but were weak on the offense. In the last two games the forwards were greatly strengthened by the presence of Wilson and Woodward, who reported for soccer at the close of the football season.

The backfield was very strong on the defense and contained several good kickers. The best of these was Eising, who played the centre half back position. He was always in the midst of the play and was the longest kicker on the team. Hirshon and Ludvigh held down the other half back posts and proved to be capable defensive men. The regular fullbacks were Middleton and Sharpe, both of whom were good kickers and first rate backfield men. Skinner alternated at full back.

Captain-elect Barnouw was the goal guard, and for his position, was probably the best on the team. He stopped numerous hard shots at the goal and fully deserves his election.

Green was manager of the team and proved himself a capable one, providing an attractive schedule and ably performing his other duties. Carl Sturm will succeed him as manager next year. Credit must also be given to Mr. Schmitt for his work as coach. He always kept his men on the jump and gave them much needed encouragement.

Second Soccer Team

In the fall of 1923, a Second Soccer team was organized which played four games with outside schools. Because of the tardy action of the Executive Committee, the Mannikin Board has been obliged to omit a picture of the team.

Hockey Review

At the beginning of the Hockey season this year the outlook was rather doubtful. The material was all right but it seemed difficult to make a team of it. However, several afternoons of practice began to put things in shape. With the aid of three veterans and three new men in school this year a creditable team was turned out.

The first game, with Loyola, an old hockey rival, was played by two evenly matched teams. This game, however, was marred by lack of practice and team play, and the score was 2-2.

The next week the team met Morristown. The latter sent in a very strong team, and altho they won by a score of five to three, it was a very close and interesting game. The playing of the H. M. team showed a marked improvement.

The next game was played with Boy's High School, of the public school league. In this contest our opponents were completely outclassed, and H. M. won by the score of 7-1.

New Rochelle followed on the schedule, and H. M. put up the best opposition of the year. The visitor's team was by no means poor, but the Maroon and White, by steady and cooperative playing, came out on the long end of a 5-1 score.

Erasmus, runners up of the Public School Championship, encountered H. M. in a loosely played game at the 181st St. rink. The result of this one-sided contest was an H. M. victory, 8-1.

The following week, the team traveled down to Princeton where they played the strong Lawrenceville aggregation in the Hobey Baker Memorial Rink. The team was completely lost on the huge surface of the ice, and they did not recover until the last period, when they yielded their opponents only one goal. The final score was 5-1, in favor of the home team.

In the Jamaica game, for the championship, according to comparative scores, H. M. had the edge on the Long Island team. However, when the team got on the ice, they did not know how to pull together, all past experience went to nought. Jamaica, by their fine team work, easily pierced the defence nine times, to their opponents twice.

The week following the team went to Morristown to play a second game. The game was closely contested, and the teams were evenly matched. Morristown managed to score three times to H. M.'s one.

In the last game of the season, the team met Loyola for the second time. In spite of the hard and fast playing, the three periods ended in a 1-1 tie. In the extra period which followed, H. M. scored another goal, thus winning the game.

Ellinger, the only letter men left from last year, played center. His dribbling was excellent, and he showed great ability in following up shots. Woodward, at left wing, was a valuable man for his guarding and dribbling. Many of his passes account for goals scored. Gilbert, at right wing could be depended on for a goal or two in every game, and he aided the defense besides.

Barker at right defense, could check any dribbler, and his long shots were a valuable asset. Wilson, playing the other defense was practically impossible to pass, and did his share in carrying the puck into his opponents' territory.

Upjohn, captain of the team, played goal thruout the year. From this vantage position he supported the team's morale and gave valuable advice.

The substitutes were Munizaga and Sutherland. Both showed good work in general playing at either defense or wing positions, and could be counted on in a pinch.

Great credit is due both Mr. Hamlin and Mr. Tewhill, who gave much of their time and ability to developing such a creditable team. Middelton arranged the long and hard schedule, and will be succeeded by Bolter next year. Joe DeMoe lent his aid and interest to the team. Others who served this year are Kennard and Broncato, both of whom will be available next year, under the leadership of Capt. Ellinger.

Tennis Review, 1923

The Varsity Tennis Team of 1923 added another championship to the long list of teams which have attained this honor in the past. Once again H. M. gained the distinction of winning first place in both singles and doubles in the Interscholastic Tournament. The team compiled the enviable record of ten victories and only one defeat.

To open the season Dwight succumbed by a 4-1 score. Following this were wins over Ethical Culture, Trinity, Peekskill, Evander Childs and Yonkers. The team then bowed to the City College Freshmen, but finished a splendid year by beating New Rochelle, McBurney and De Witt Clinton. As a fitting climax Captain Schuster won the Private Schools singles championship and paired with Muller won a like title in the doubles.

Easily the outstanding star of the team was Schuster, the number one man of the team. He was rated among the best school boy players in New York and was high in many tournaments besides winning almost all his matches for H. M. The second man was Muller who was an exceedingly fine player. Paired with Schuster, he played on a doubles team which had not many equals among the schools of New York. The other two men were Sampson and Trumbull, both of whom gave an excellent account of themselves. In addition Trumbull proved himself an able manager.

Despite the fact that all of the members of last year's championship team have left school, nevertheless 1924 should bring forth a tennis team of which H. M. need not be ashamed.

To head the team is Captain Packard who had several years' experience. He is a fine singles player and should have no difficulty in annexing the position of first man. Reed and Eising are the two leading contenders for next place. Both play a good game and should stage an interesting fight for the berth. Loeb and Klee are the other members of the squad.

The management of the team rests in the hands of Charles Schock who has provided for it a long and hard schedule.

STEINWAY

THE INSTRUMENT OF THE IMMORTALS

Unswerving fidelity to the ideal of its creator has made Steinway the continual leader in the development of piano manufacture. Each of Henry Steinway's descendants has contributed his own particular genius and ability to the perfection of Steinway craftsmanship. This devotion to perfection likewise has made possible the Steinway of the home. In the smaller grand or upright, suitable for the modest abode, the Steinway tone lives in all its glory and nobility. Once you have heard or played a Steinway there can be no question of your choice. It will be your piano, just as it is the piano of the masters who have named it, Steinway—Instrument of the Immortals

Any new Steinway piano may be purchased with a cash deposit of 10%, with the balance extending over a period of two years. Used pianos accepted in partial exchange.

Prices: $875 and up

In Greater New York, Steinway Pianos are sold only at Steinway Hall.

OFFERS

To UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS

Courses for men in Columbia College and for women in Barnard College leading to A. B.

The program of studies in the College places emphasis on the quality of the student's work rather than the time spent in residence, and is so arranged as to make it possible for a properly qualified student to complete the requirements both for the bachelor's degree and for any one of the professional degrees of the University in six years.

To PROFESSIONAL STUDENTS

Courses for men leading to appropriate degrees in Law, Mining, Metallurgy, Chemistry, Civil, Electrical, Mechanical and Industrial Engineering.

For men and women in Architecture, in Business, in Dentistry, in Journalism, in Medicine, in Education and Practical Arts through Teachers College, and in Pharmacy at the College of Pharmacy.

To GRADUATE STUDENTS

Courses for men and women leading to A. M. and Ph.D under the Faculties of Political Science, Philosophy and Pure Science and to M.Sc. under the professional school faculties.

The University has a six weeks' Summer Season and a system of Extension Teaching including an Institute of Arts and Sciences for popular education.

INFORMATION regarding each course is found in special Bulletins of Information, furnished without charge. Any of these, and any further information desired, may be obtained from the Secretary.
